WE NOMINATE

Marguerite Loud McAneny, a dedicated Princetonian for the past 35 years, who returns to 'TOWN TOPICS' cover-page as the newly named Executive Director of the suddenly rejuvenated Historical Society of Princeton. Widely known throughout the Princeton Community as General Manager of McCarter Theatre until her retirement in 1964, this versatile 65-year old Princetonian will act as coordinator of the Historical Society's programs and activities and will supervise the "taking over" of Bainbridge House, the historic 18th century house occupied for the past six decades by the Public Library of Princeton which is about to move into a new $1-million structure on Witherspoon Street.

With the "acquisition" of Bainbridge House, through the continuing interest of Princeton University at a rental of one dollar-a-year, Mrs. McAneny and the officers of the 28-year old Historical Society are confronted with converting a community landmark, birthplace of Commodore Bainbridge and the property of Princeton University after a century of Stockton family ownership, into a museum and source of historic materials, a meeting place and visitors' center. Mrs. McAneny's approach to the task was suggested by her plea this week: "A box of old letters or newspaper clippings may be the very thing a researcher or historian is looking for. Please ask us before you throw them away."

From the time she moved to Princeton in 1931 Mrs. McAneny, a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Barnard and wife of Herbert McAneny, Assistant to the Headmaster of the Princeton Day School, has been concerned with the theatre in Princeton and has helped develop amateur groups. A founding member and twice President of the Princeton Community Players, adviser to the P.J. and B. Players, director of dramatics at Miss Fine's School, trustee of both the Princeton Ballet Society and the Great Road Players, she was recently named chairman of the McCarter Theatre Guild. She also holds an appointment from Governor Hughes to the Theatre-Dance Committee of the Star Commission to Study the Arts.

To her new position with the Historical Society, which she assumes next month, Mrs. McAneny, a native of Pittsburgh, Pa., brings wide experience as curator and librarian of the 1,000's of drama scripts, books, correspondence, photographs and theater memorabilia comprising the William Seymour Theatre Collection of the University Library. For almost three decades she administered this distinguished collection, one of the five of its kind in this country, and in recent years as "Seymour Curator," a post she relinquished last June, served as President of the Theatre Library Association as well as Editor of the ASTRA (American Society for Theatre Research), "Newsletter."

The Society's long-range plans, as outlined this week by Mrs. McAneny and her associates, include almost continuous exhibitions relating to Princeton's history, art and artifacts, documents, photographs and maps. Part of Bainbridge House, which itself constitutes a remarkable example of well-preserved 18th century American architecture, will be furnished in period style. An unusual Genealogical Library is projected together with what is termed a "Resource File of Information" bearing upon local businesses, educational institutions, racial and national groups, churches, transportation and community traditions.

For undertaking an assignment which bodes well for the accelerating development of the Historical Society; for her devotion to the community she "adores"; for believing that the Princeton of years-to-come should know and value its historic heritage; she is our nominee as

THIS IS BURGESS HALL. Wait a minute to rise. Wherever you enter from the north or the south, the approach is a pleasant and welcoming combination of old trees, attractive new plantings, walkways, arcades and even a pool. Princeton's new Burgess Hall was not exactly unveiled this week, but it was shown to the press in spite of rain, some mud and a certain unfinished air. The structure now has cinder-block walls that show with some definition just where this office will be, or that chamber and if it doesn't yet have a roof, who needs a roof when nobody is working inside?

William H. Walker, Borough Council president, who is a professional architect who enjoys keeping an eye on B.H. even though two other architects designed the building, says he hopes the new municipal hall will be finished by July 4, 1967. That would be about one year from the start of construction. A more realistic date would be 15-18 months from the start of construction. However, contractors have less than two weeks to bad weather, and everyone is optimistic.

Main Floor. The three architects, Henry Jandi and Richard Chorlton, have devised a building with a concrete base and walls of slightly oversize brick in a pleasing, rough, almost antique texture. The arcades, the front, the back—all are brick. Broad steps of concrete lead up to the main doors.

Casual, just-a-minute visitors (parking tickets or people looking around) will enter from the south by way of a mall in front of the present Princeton Battle Monument. A pie-shaped piece of land between Stockton Street and the row of pin oaks and the row of cherry trees, will be landscaped with curving flagstone walks and a flagpole.

After a some dead or dying trees have been taken out, visitors will be able to have a clear view of the Battle Monument and the south front of Burgess Hall from Stockton Street. (This wedge of land used to belong to the state, and is now the Borough's to develop and maintain.)

ENTER, FOOTBALL, AND FALL: Fall begins Friday at 6:43 a.m., and the 1966 football season will open Saturday at 2 with the annual Raters-Princeton game in Palmer Stadium. Captain Walt Kumbho, one of the "Tigers" top players as a three year letterman and defensive end, will lead Princeton in its 97th campaign on the gridiron. For Coach Dick Colman, the season will mark the end of his first decade as "chief of staff" here. Details in "Sports in Princeton," page 47.

From the south mall, visitors must take broad concrete steps to the arcade. The building is a split-level design and after going through the doors, visitors will climb half a flight of stairs to reach the main level.

Here is an administrative core containing the offices of mayor and administrator, surrounded by a public hall. Here is the Council chamber on the right, with curved brick walls on one side and wood paneling on another.

The Story of the United Fund

The report to the people of the greater Princeton area, prepared each fall for inclusion in TOWN TOPICS by the United Funded Cross, appears in the current issue. It serves as a persuasive request for continued assistance to the various welfare agencies and institutions which play such a vital part in the daily life of Princeton and nearby communities.

The current issue of TOWN TOPICS, running to 50 pages, is cited as pages 24 and 25 in the correspondence for publication. It was also published in the year ago. Another annual feature of community-wide interest will appear in the issue of September 29.

The chamber will seat 100 persons, in contrast to the present chamber and its seating capacity of 50. (Fewer, if some of the seats are taken up by the roomy by the shaly, flosky ceiling.)

Adjoining is a conference room for executive sessions, or for the one or two, under the employees' lounge and toilet facility. Next to that, is the office of the magistrate and the tax collector's office. This means that the magistrate can enter the court-room (the Council chamber) from his own office. Left of the administrative core, across the public hall, is the health department, the welfare department and the tax collector's office. There is room enough here for Township health officials, too, if present plans materialize and the two health departments join.

Police are off the public hall, with their own entrance. There will be a new cell block with four cells, plus another for either women or juveniles, something the Borough has never had before.

Ground Floor. Long-staying visitors, like employees or people coming to a Council meeting, will swing into a large parking lot on the north and walk through a courtyard into the north arcade.

The main Borough Hall is roughly L-shaped and this court lies between the two arms. It has been planned by George Cushman, the landscape architect, with paving, shade trees in boxes, a garden design, planters and benches in the shade.

Police have their own parking area near the building that used to be the Miss Fine's School gym. Police cars park on the side, between the cherry trees. Princeton officials have been told by Russell Butler, the landscape architect who planted the famous trees, that they have almost lived out their life span and will probably not last much longer. It is possible that one or two may have to go.

The cinder-block gym will remain separate from Borough Hall. The municipality is now obtaining estimates on re-installing the heat and light that went when the old school was raised, and on re-doing the plumbing so that existing restaurants may be enlarged.

At a Council meeting this summer, reporters noticed that a tendril of vine had grown in through a window crack in the old Council chamber and was gracefully posing against the old plaster wall.

At Borough Administrator Robert Money says, it's going to be quite a change.

OPEN HOUSE THURSDAY
Set for Adult School. All students who intend to take out the beginner courses in the Princeton Adult School are requested to attend an Open House this Thursday evening from 8 to 9:30 at Princeton High School, so they may discuss with the instructor which class they should enter. All prospective students are invited to attend so they may discuss the tools and equipment they will need for the first class session.

The Adult School will be held for two Thursday nights at Princeton High School, starting next Thursday, September 29. A complete copy of the curriculum and a registration blank may be obtained at TOWN TOPICS or the Public Library.

Mrs. James Stretch, chairman of curriculum, reported that many former courses will be given again this fall because of town topics.

TO MARK 40TH YEAR

Of Norselville. A dinner will be held at the Norselville pavilion this Saturday to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the founding of the community. John Lawler is president of the ruling board of trustees. Ralph Tompkins and Taber Olsen head the entertainment committee. Mrs. John Mortenson has written the script for a narration "Deven Meyers Lane," which will be presented as the feature of the evening.

Adolph Johnson, administrator of the Norwegian Seamen's Church of Brooklyn, founded the community in 1926 as a summer resort, assisted by Thom Arnesen and Parvill Olsen. About 30 families built summer cottages on land one mile north of Griggstown, choosing sites by lot. Government by a board of trustees was inaugurated.

After World War II, the community developed into a settlement of some 50 year-round houses. Six members of the original group are still living.

TOPICS Of The Town

"WE'VE HAD SOME WICKS!"
Many thefts in Township Princeton Township was the scene last week of a rash of breaking and enterings and thefts. No fewer than five homes were entered, while thefts ranged from a $10 car battery to more than $3900 in construction equipment. "We've had some wicks!" commented Detective Fred Porter.

All of the homes were located in well-to-do sections of the Township — Brookstone Drive, Ober Road, Newlin Road, Haset and Battle Road. All were ransacked but in some, expensive articles such as cameras, TV sets and jewelry were left untouched.

The home of Charles Healey, 115 Brookstone Drive, was entered some time on Sunday. Police said entry was gained through the front door by ripping a lock with a bar or screwdriver.

The dining room cabinets were all ransacked, as was a guest room and a den. A jewelry box in Mrs. Healey's bedroom was rifled and a chest in the dining room containing a silver setting was completely emptied.

A screen from a window in the den had been ripped off and placed inside the den. The back door of the house was wide open. Police said they were unable to determine how much was stolen until an inventory had been taken by the owners.

What was taken from the home of William Schreyer, 15 Haset Avenue, is unknown to police. They report it was entered between 5 p.m. and midnight Saturday by some one who first removed a section of screens, broke a pane of glass at top of a French door and then reached in and pulled a slip bolt.

Every room in the house was ransacked. Left untouched, police said, were such items as fur, jewelry, a camera and TV set. There was no money in the house, according to the owners.

Mrs. Martin Schwarzschild, 12 Ober Road, discovered and reported to police the weekend entry of her neighbor's home. Mrs. Edward F. Gryzbek, 13 Ober Road, entry to a bedroom was made by prying a crank window on the north side of the house.

Inside, police found a familiar scene: bureaus in bedrooms

ransacked and desks rifled. All the closets in the house had been left open. A strong box from a closet in the master bedroom was found forced open. A number of jewelry boxes were left on top of a bedroom bureau, which had been ransacked. What was taken is unknown at this time, police said.

Kissam Home Entered. Another victim was Philip Kissam's home at 15 Newlin Road. Police said entry was made between Wednesday and Friday. Entry was via a rear screen door leading to a double door to the library. The desks in the library were ransacked, as were the usual targets: bedroom bureau, closets and jewelry box. A dining room chest containing chinaware was opened and ransacked.

Earlier in the week, the home of Harley L. Lutz, 96 Battle Road, was reported entered by Mrs. Marston Morse, 49 Battle Road. The actual entry was not discovered by the gardener, Domenico Pirone.

A door to a den was pried open and a pane of glass in a second door leading to the main portion of the house broken. All the closets were found open. A bureau in a master bedroom and a chest in a guest room were ransacked. Police said they believe a camera is missing.

Police also said that a 9-inch portable TV set was stolen from the home of Ansley J. Coale, 167 Edgerstone Road, which had been reported entered last week.

Elsewhere, there were these thefts. Benjamin H. Killis, foreman of the Crimmins Construction Co. of New York, reported that tools valued at $3,965.40 were stolen some time Thursday night from a trailer. The locks on the trailer door had been broken and two tool boxes were entered.

Part of the lot included two jack hammers valued at $1,339, 200 feet of welding cable and a chain saw. The trailer was parked at a construction site off Kingston Road near the Carnegie Lake dam.

Mower Is Missing. On Monday Dr. Peter DeLuaro, 630 Prospect Avenue, called to report that his $79 rotary lawnmower was missing from his garage. Edward Smith, 261 John Street, told police a $10 battery was stolen from his car some time Thursday night while it was parked in a garage at 43 Leigh Avenue.

In the Borough, A. Ronald Rouse, 21 Palmer Square, called police Monday to say that his apartment had been entered while he was away during the weekend. Taken, he said, were his Edgin watch, a top hat, his dresser and some British commemorative coins. Police said there was no evidence of any forced entry.

"YES" TO DEVISITS
From Township, "I'm satisfied now," explained Mayor Carl C. Schafer Monday night as he announced a change from his previous "no" vote to a "yes" on the question of allowing two devisits to build a home-office in the North Harrison-Franklin area of the Township.

All five Township Committees voted "yes" and thereby gave Dr. Stephen Berman and Dr. Jack Roemer their variance. Attorney Gordon Griffin, who had previously expressed his firm opposition to the variance, did not comment.

The question of these home-office structures had been passed to the Township Planning Board for study after the Zoning Board had said "yes" to two devisits and Committee had said "no".

The Planning Board, in a letter to the committee, said there was some sentiment on the part of Board members for granting the variance because there did seem to be a need for professional office space.

To Study Further, John Wallace, Planning Board member who was present at the Committee meeting Monday night, said the Board believed that the matter should be studied as a whole and he added that perhaps other areas than the Harrison-Franklin one might be zoned for these house-of-free buildings.

From the audience, Miss Helen Fairbanks, 20 Valley Road, asked Committee as she has before how it could justify allowing apartments in home-office structures when it did not allow the conversion of private homes to apartments, or indeed allow apartments to be built at all.

Committeeman Walter Foster reminded Miss Fairbanks that each district or district had no apartment in his office "building." Committee William Wilson explained to her the "receiving evolution" of the occasional home-occupancy concept to the present situation in which a professional man rent his required apartment in an employee and need not live in it himself at all.

Miss Fairbanks' question had been voiced, anyway, and she received no real reply from Committee.

No Newer Extension. Committee heard its estimates Frank Quincy report that three out of the 10 Alexander Road property owners queried did not want a sewer extension. One did want it and the others hadn't bothered to reply. One of the three opposed to the sewer is the University Mr. Quincy said.

The Board of Health, generally in favor of extending sewers to whatever areas lack reclamation would probably be, they apparently felt that the University's sewer system (after ear-wash facilities are complete) by mid-November, there has been some septic trouble in the area, although a negligible amount.

The $185,100 supplementary appropriation for the swimming pool was introduced, approved and will be published on Monday, October 17.
An emergency resolution last month provided a desperately needed $25,000 for extra pool costs. Approval of this would automatically rescind the emergency $25,000 and complete the package.

Adm. Mayor Schaefer told Committee he was changed.

Time for a Change

When the autumn
Fog breaks
It means the end
Of ruse and phlox.

Arrival of the equinox this week meant the arrival of rain, and welcome it was, despite the inconvenience. With with the 3 1/2 inches the Princeton area received in last week's drifter, September will be the first month to produce better than average rainfall in the past 50 years.

Cloudy skies will continue until Friday, with fair and warmer weather moving in thereafter. The weekend should be just right.

Long slides He had voted against the spring reclamation ordinance for this new ordinance.

"It is a beautiful pool," he commented.

Widen The Great Road. The Township has asked the state for $19,370 in road aid for 1967. The money will be put in the pot along with $12,500 left over from 1965 and $8,000 left over from last year, and $7,000 frantically saved from the Alexander Road widening to provide more than enough to widen The Great Road. The job has been estimated at $44,300.

Committeeman Wilson said that the Clemenshaw property owners, again, that he reminded Township discuss their new tax status representatives with Clemenshaw representatives.

THAT WAITING ROOM. Hospital Put Off Again. Princeton Hospital still does not have an answer to its "Can we park here?" question. The Township Zoning Board on Thursday night deferred further consideration the hospital's request for a special permit to lay out part of three properties on Henry Avenue into parking areas. The board will presumably have an answer at its October 20 meeting.

The Board approved the appeal permit application of Louis Sotnick for a 21 million musing home on Mount Lucas Road and formerly owned by Dr. Cornelia Jaynes.

The Board told Mr. Sotnick his buildings will have to be built on at least five acres, created by two staggered lines of evergreens and designed with screened outside lights. The home will be a one-story Colonial structure with eight private rooms, 46 second rooms, 100 beds and 100 parking spaces. The building will occupy 36,000 square feet.

Mr. Sotnick must now go before the Township Planning Board in subdivision of his property from the rest of the land owned by Dr. Jaynes. Then he can obtain a building permit.

They Didn't Try Hard Enough. The 1967 car rental agency must give up its car-parking facilities on Route 206 in the Pearson shopping area. The board ruled that the after-dark nature and the after-dark parking of cars in that location is a clear violation of the zoning ordinance. The Township zoning officer, W. J. Shinn, was thereby upheld in his ruling that the cars must go.

Hospital's Argument. In its presentation, Princeton Hospital told the Board that its "Master Plan" for parking, requested by the zoning, was a plan blocked out in 1963 by a firm of New York planners. It calls for gradual acquisition of all residential properties on the south side of Henry Avenue and the west side of Harris Road, as they become available.

administrator for the hospital, said this would open up room for 441 parking spaces, plus the present 230-250 in the Franklin Avenue lot. He told the hospital there was no timetable for acquiring these properties. "The hospital does not have eminent domain," he observed.
Under questioning from Thomas C. Jamieson Jr., representing several Henry Avenue families, Mr. Scignone said the hospital had investigated buying from some outlying parking areas and had found it too expensive ($25-30,000 a year, including land cost), and had found business-zone properties across Wilkesboro prohibitive ($100,000-$200,000).

"Good Neighbor" Policy.
"The hospital has a complete disregard for the dollars and cents of home-owners," said Mr. Jamieson after this testimony. "The first homes purchased by the hospital would bring their owners fair market prices, but the houses that were left, surrounded by blacktop parking lots, would depreciate in value because who else would want to buy them except the hospital?"

Homeer Zink, attorney for the hospital, repeated the institutions' assertion that it wants to be a "good neighbor."

Actually, the hospital doesn't want any neighbors!

RAYMOND F. MALE. "We can't pull out and we can't just try the North Vietnamese..." That's the conclusion reached by Mr. Male after a three-week stay in South Vietnam.

Mr. Jamieson retorted, "I just want to wipe out the neighborhood and pave it."

He also accused the hospital of not providing a parking "plan" at all since the institution is in no position to implement his proposals.

It was also pointed out that, if the hospital acquires Henry-Harris homes on a cropping long-term basis, it will have to apply for a permit each time, like the one it is asking now.

Moving to broader areas of planning, Serge Bonetto, 72 Henry, wants a big regional medical center. Even if all these lots are provided, what about the traffic they will generate?

Mr. Bonetto suggested that a regional medical center might better be located on I-95, Russell Van Cleave, chairman of the Zoning Board, suggested he write the Planning Board.

In other action, the Zoning Board deferred until October the variance request of William Konietzko of Province Line Road to build a house on a quarter-acre lot in a two-acre zone.

MALE RETURNS
After Viet Nam, "It's awful. I need, not hawks and not doves," said Raymond F. Male this week after he returned from a three-week tour of duty in Viet Nam as the government's manpower expert.

By "doves," of course, Mr. Male means the kind of men who can forge a vice policy out of the turbulence and conflict in South Viet Nam.

Ray Male, former mayor of the Borough of Princeton, lives at 76 Cedar Lane and commutes to Trenton as the state's Commissioner of Labor and Industry.

He was asked by the United States government to visit Viet Nam because the South Viet Namese government and U. S. officials in the country have a big manpower problem: how do you allocate scarce electricians, accountants, bulldozer operators and construction workers?

How do you keep pay levels in equilibrium?
How do you train enough men to meet your needs? Should you draft teachers into the Army or do you need teachers more as teachers? How do you get technicians who know how to dig sewers and operate weather bureaus?

But inflation... The United States is the major employer in Viet Nam: the Army, Navy, Air Force and the so-called "R.M.C.M.J." combine of four American construction forces together employ more than 30,000.

Bidding against one another for scarce technicians, they have had an inflationary impact on the Vietnamese economy and have, in this way, been undermining American aid to the country.

In his three weeks in the country, Mr. Male managed to engineer an agreement between the military and the civilians on a standard pay scale. He also worked with the South Vietnamese Ministries of Labor and Commerce to strengthen their efforts in job training and "putting the people where the jobs are."

Will he go back? Possibly. If he does, it could be for as long as six months; however, many of the Vietnamese manpower programs have their origin in Washington, and much can be done there to solve them, Mr. Male says.

A New View. The stay in Viet Nam jolted many of Mr. Male's conceptions about the war, he says. "I had thought of it as a one-track military kind of war with a superimposed government," he explains, "but I see it differently now."

He was astonished at the amount of construction going on schools, sewage treatment plants, hospitals, water systems.

"You'd see a bunch of Navy Seabees—they'd bulldoze a big level place, then about seven South Vietnamese men how to mix concrete and to make a big, level square. Then they'd show them how to build a house on that square."

"A house on a concrete square" will right now it keeps the Viet Cong from tunneling under at night and murdering your family, but in the future, after the V.C. has gone, it'll keep your family dry, and it's easy to clean."

Barred Wire Felling Place. Mr. Male was in Saigon on Sunday, September 11—Election Day. Like other Americans, he was "guaranteed" that he kept under what he laughingly calls "house arrest" so there could be no question of an American influence.

"But it was fortunate enough to live in a house near a polling place and I watched people vote," he says. "The courage of those Vietnamese—who it takes guts to vote when the V.C. has threatened you to murder them and told you your vote will get you a wire through barbed-wire coils to the polling place."

Mr. Male says he was not aware of any government lure and construction workers?

LOSES LICENSE 90 DAYS
 For Careless Driving, Terry W. Lutz, 20, RD 4, Princeton, was fined $25 and had his license revoked for 90 days by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. Monday for careless driving. A second charge of leaving the scene of an accident was dismissed. He pleaded not guilty to both.
 A third charge of being a disorderly person was faced by Mr. Lutz in criminal court. That also was dismissed. Sgt. Theodore Lewis testified that the defendant was driving in an abusive manner in the parking lot on Park Place. He then drove off, running a parking meter in the process, but was apprehended later on Humbert St.

 Mrs. Nancy David, 27, 28 Bank Street, also faced hearings in traffic and criminal courts. In traffic court she pleaded not guilty to a charge of tampering with a motor vehicle bought by her husband, Robert. She was fined $15.
 In criminal court a charge of malicious mischief was dismissed. The complainant, Gerald G. Watlington of 18 Spring Street, reported that Mrs. David had struck his car while it was parked in a PMI lot on Palmer Square.

 Bill E. Williams, 33, 18 Washington Road, paid fines of $15 each for a one-way street violation and being an unlicensed driver. Improper display of plates also cost William W. Smiley, 21, 24 Dickinson Street, $15.
 Twelve dollar fines were levied against Richard J. Henkel, 27, 152 Moore Street; Mrs. Jaco Boone, 55, 115 Leigh Avenue, both red light infractions; and David L. Baker, 19, Cranbury Road, Princeton Junction, stop sign.

 The concert will also include a first performance of the 1964 revision of the "Ruslan and Lyudmila," the second of the "Three Sacred Chorus (Peter and the Wolf, Credo and Ave Maria)" composed between 1928 and 1934 for use in the Russian Orthodox liturgy. The choruses will be sung in church Slavonic.
 In addition, Mr. Stravinsky and his associate, Robert Craft, will conduct the "Variations" (1903-04) — composed in memory of Alfred Huxley and the Latin Requiem. It will be per-duced the premiere of his new work, the Requiem Cantata, in McCarter Theatre on Saturday, October 3 at 8:30.

 The Requiem was commissioned by the University from special funds which were contributed for two purposes: to commission the work from the composer, and to provide for the Princeton concert of Stravinsky's music.
 The composition, which has been written for chorus, orchestra and four solo voices, is a setting of passages from the Latin Requiem. It will be per-

Mr. Stravinsky and Mr. Craft will conduct an orchestra of 60, whose composition has not yet been announced; the Itasca College Choir under Gregg Smith and soloists Linda Anderson, soprano; Elaine Bonzler, contralto; Charles Bressler, tenor and Donald Gramm, bass.

The Requiem Canticles is dedicated to the late Helen Buchanan Seeger who was for many years a member of the Friends of Music at Princeton and was a major benefactor of Princeton University.

Mr. Stravinsky's appearance here will be his third in Princeton. In 1937, he conducted the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra here, and in 1950 he addressed members of the Princeton Seminar in Advanced Musical Studies.

CARD SALES LAUNCHED: By MS Society, The Central New Jersey Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society has begun its Christmas and note card sales project for the benefit of multiple sclerosis patient care and research. Mrs. Thomas C. Roberts is chairman of sales in the Princeton area.

Ten different cards with reproductions of works of Delaware Valley artists are being sold. Six are in color and four in monochrome. Artists represented include Marie Sturken and Margaret Johnson of Princeton and Anna Gross of Pennington.

Proceeds from the sale will go to fight multiple sclerosis, a disease which cripples young adults. Forty percent will be sent to the national society to be used in research to find the cause and cure for the disease. Sixty percent will be used by the chapter for the care of local patients.

Brochures illustrating the cards and order blanks are available from Mrs. Roberts, 32 Hodge Road, 924-1066.

CLAY STREET AGAIN
Residents at Council, It was quiet last weekend in the Clay Street area.

Residents of the neighborhood, particularly those who live in the housing project on Clay, appeared before Borough Council last Wednesday to ask for police protection against gangs of boys, 10 and 16 years old, who have been slashing tires, strewn garbage, throwing bottles and making life noisily unpleasant for Clay Street all summer.

"All we ask is to be treated as citizens of Princeton," said Mrs. Estelle Johnson, 41 Clay.

who is head of the project's residents' association. We have a right to the same protection given to other Princeton people.

Princeton police generally, and Chief Peter J. McMahon in particular, have told residents that unless they sign complaints against specific youths and appear against them in court, the police are helpless.

"We are told to sign complaints," Mrs. Johnson said, "but anyone who signs a complaint is afraid of what the youths or their families will do to him."

Chief McMahon, at the Council meeting, said police could use a tougher ordinance.

Chief McMahon, Mayor Henry S. Patterson and Councilmen at the meeting said their deep concern and their helplessness. To the suggestion that a patrolman in plain clothes or uniform, patrolling the area on a beat, Mayor Patterson was cool. He said it would mean only an uneasy truce.

The mayor favors a long-range attempt to solve the problem. He said he would like to see Negro boys who would be paternal "big brothers" to the younger ones, and also by providing something more interesting to do than throwing bottles.

The Zoning Board recommended that Council approve a variance allowing conversion of the old Quarry Street School to a nursing home, and Council did so. It also went along with the Zoning Board's recommendation for a variance approving establishment of a parking lot in the Nassau Street School playground.

VELIKOVSKY TO SPEAK
"Too Big to Be Ignored."
Immanuel Velikovsky, controversial scientist who lives at 718 Hartley Avenue, will speak next Wednesday, September 28 at 8:15 p.m. in the auditorium of the Woodrow Wilson School on Washington Road. The lecture is open to the public without charge.

Dr. Velikovsky will speak on "Orthodoxy in Science and Non-Conformity in the Light of Space-age Discoveries." Described as a "non-conforming intellectual too big to be ignored and too quilled with sharp facts to sit down in comfort with," Dr. Velikovsky has re-examined the structure of the universe and contributed bold new concepts to science and humanism.

Among his books are "Worlds in Collision," "Oedipus and Akhnaton," "Ages in Chaos" and "Earth in Upheaval." He also participated in founding and editing the "Scripta Universitatis."

Dr. Velikovsky will appear under the auspices of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, Princeton Section.

"LET'S TALK ABOUT IT"
Negro Problems. A second seminar on the problems of Princeton's Negroes, built around the theme, "Let's Talk About It," will be held on Saturday, October 22, in all-day sessions at the former Quarry Street School.

The seminar, which will be open to the public, will focus on three areas of concern to Negroes in Princeton: education and delinquency, job opportunities and housing. The first seminar, on jobs, was held June 18.

The John-Witherspoon Civic Association is the sponsor. The public is invited to attend.

The morning will be devoted to a wide range of general topics. After lunch, participants will separate into workshops on the three areas of discussion.

Mrs. R. E. Edwards, chairman of the Association, said that the purpose of the seminar is to "break through the barriers to communication, and approach the problems of the Negro community in a cooperative manner."

"While we strive for equality in the community," she said, "we must also strive for excellence from within, for true

Among the new teachers in the first woman to be named to the Lawrenceville faculty in the school's history, Mrs. Jean J. Maglin. A graduate of the University of Geneva, Mrs. Maglin will teach French. Her husband will also teach French.

Other new teachers are Robert J. Garver, art; Stanley I. Hegg, science; William J. Jackson, history and chairman of the scholarship committee; Stephen V. Lavino, art; Jeffrey H. McNeil, religion; William M. Polk, acting chairman of the department of religion.

BENNINGTON DINNER SET
To Honor President. Southern New Jersey alumnae of Bennington College will hold a buffet supper to honor the college's president, Dr. Edward J. Bloustein, next Wednesday, September 28, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Savage, Drakes Corner Road.

Before assuming his present office in 1965, Dr. Bloustein was a professor at New York University Law School. He has made studies on the rights of privacy and of the problems of indigent and mentally ill defendants. He has also edited "Nuclear Energy, Public Policy and the Law."

Mrs. John Lee is chairman of the affair. She will be assisted by Mrs. Richard W. Colton Jr., Mrs. Robert Gutman and Mrs. Richard Bergman.

POLICE CHARGE SUSPECT
 With Borough Robberies.
 Borough police, who a week ago arrested Jerry Lee Burnett, 21, of New York City, on the lawn of a Westcott Road residence, have formally charged him with two thefts.

At a special hearing before Magistrate Theodore T. Tams last week, Burnett, who, police said, was born and raised in Kingston, was charged with breaking and entering the Food Mart, 20 Witherspoon Street, and the Oratio Restaurant next door. He was also charged with failing to give a good account of himself.

He was sent to the Mercer County Jail without bail to await action by a Grand Jury. Princeton attorney Theodore Vreeland was appointed by the court to serve as Burnett's lawyer.

Detective Robert McAvonia, who has handled the investigation, reported several items of stolen property that were taken from homes in the Borough in a wave of thefts, were recovered in Burnett's New York hotel room. Police added that Burnett was a prime suspect in these thefts.

Burnett was a former employee of the Food Mart and the Nassau Inn. One hundred fifteen dollars in a Guyana money bag was stolen from the Food Mart and sweater and a flashlight from the Gro-Lu Restaurant.

At the time of his arrest here, Burnett was an escapee from the Middlesex County Workhouse. Police said he gave his address as the Hotel Ebony, 152 W. 112th Street, New York 25.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED
 For Army Hospital. A greatly increased patient load at Walsall Army Hospital at Fort Dix has created a need for more volunteers to assist in recreation and welfare activities. The Princeton Red Cross, which began its Fort Dix Hospital program during World War II, is seeking volunteers to meet the need.
 Special training courses will be held for new volunteers on October 3 and 6. Those interested should call the Red Cross office, 24-2404.

VACCINATION SCHEDULED

For Lawrence Dogs. The Lawrence Township Rabies Vaccination Clinic will operate throughout the week beginning October 2.
 The clinic will be open from 8 to 6 on October 3 and 4 at the Slackwood Fire House, on October 5 and 6 at the Lawrenceville Fire House on October 7 at the Learning Experience Center behind the Lawrence Road Fire House, and from 9:30 to 11 a.m. on October 8 at the Learning Experience Center.

CARMICHAEL COMING

This Thursday, Stokely Carmichael, SNCC leader, will speak on "The Movement: Civil Rights or Black Power" this Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Coash 10 on the University campus.

Mr. Carmichael is appearing under the sponsorship of the American Whig-Clasp Society, undergraduate society on the University campus; the Princeton Student Center and the Woodrow Wilson School graduate association. Members of these organizations will be seated first, at 7:20, and the public will be admitted starting at 7:40.

If the audience is too large for McCash 10, it will probably be moved to McCash 50.

The SNCC leader will also appear at a Thursday after-noon on Page 12.

Mr. Helm has worked with LTS previously as a research associate. He joined the organization in 1953 and later became head of the Systems Design Group in the Data Processing Section.

NEW COMPANY FORMED
To Handle New Golf Ball. The first product of PCR Patent Development Corporation will be a solid molded golf ball. The company has been formed by Princeton Chemical Research, which owns 80 percent of the stock, to develop new products.

The new golf ball, named for its inventor, James R. Bartlett, has been said to be the first major technological development in golf since the conventional rubber-wound core ball was invented by Haskett in 1888. The Bartlett ball meets P. G. A. specifications and is expected to maintain OHC's long shape and true center of gravity under the toughest treatment.

The Bartlett ball is expected to capture a substantial portion of the U. S.'s $70 million golf ball market. The ball is currently being manufactured by two American companies. PCR Patent is studying the possibility of manufacturing of the new product. PCR's director of Polymer Research, Dr. Thomas H. Shepherd, assisted in defining the ball's basic chemical properties in connection with the patent applications which have been filed in all the major golfing countries.

Released on bond from Atlanta, Georgia, on charges of kidnapping from the recent riot in Atlanta, Mr. Carmichael was scheduled to speak before White-Cla members later this year. The organization advanced the date following the events in Atlanta. This will be Mr. Carmichael's only public appearance this year, according to SNCC spokesmen.

SCHOOL'S SALE VOTED

In West Windsor, Plans to sell Penns. N. School were approved Monday night by the West Windsor Board of Education. Pupils will be transferred to the Maurice Hawk School where 11 new classrooms are completed — probably by September, 1967 — and the eventual purchase will not take occupancy until the shift is made.

Located on property "considered to have a high value" — the intersection of Alexander Road with U.S. 1 — the school is expected to provide income to the municipality when it is sold and later in the form of a tax. hold the first meeting of its 1966-67 season next Wednesday, September 28, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Gladys Holsinger, George Road, Dayton. In addition to meetings and workshops, the new program includes a series of beginning weaving and design classes.

The classes will begin on October 3 and 4 at the Cellar Studio, 90 Westcott Road. Teachers will be Miss Emily Post, director of the Thousand Islands Museum Craft School, and Mrs. Gladys Holsinger. Those interested should call Mrs. Frank Martin, the guild president, 466-1585; or Mrs. R. McMillen, the treasurer, 799-1585.

5% INTEREST OFFERED

By First Trenton National. The First National Bank of Trenton, largest in Central Jersey, has started issuing Savings Certificates with an interest rate of 5%. This is the highest interest rate permitted by federal regulations.

Any customer, personal or business, is eligible. Certificate rates will be issued in multiples of $100 with a minimum of $1,000. Other features: three-month maturity with automatic renewal; may be redeemed on any maturity date; and can be used as loan collateral.

In addition, interest income may be mailed or credited to a savings or checking account. Richard G. Macgill, president of the bank, made the announcement. He said that the 5% certificates would put First Trenton in a strong competitive position with banks in New York, New York and Philadelphia.

PRINCETON BACKS FROST

With Votes and Money. Unsuccessful U.S. Senate candidate David Frost received a quarter of his campaign contributions from Princeton booklets, according to figures filed with the Secretary of State. Although he carried the borough and the township, Dr. Frost lost by a 7-to-1 margin to Warren Wilentz.

Dr. Frost's largest contribution came from Mrs. William Scheide of 133 Library Place, who donated $6,853 of the total $28,804 contributed. Mrs. Scheide is a member of the Rutgers University board of trustees and a former member of the State Tax Policy Commission.

Another Princeton contributor was Archibald S. Alexander Jr., 61 Westcott Road, who gave $150. Mr. Alexander's father is assistant director of the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency.

Definitely adult hilarity—University undergraduates, graduate students and their families—the Playhouse will be most embarrassed if you will be—The "Owl and the Pussycat" month before each concert and sketches out the romance between a young intellectual (natural, at any rate) and the neighbor girl whose various activities he watches through a telescope.

GARDEN

Dear John (now playing) is no adult art film from Sweden that has received enthusiastic critical response in this country.

Christina Schollin is the girl in the story, a waitress in a small Scandinavian port town living with her brother and her small daughter who was born out of wedlock. The man played by Jarl Kulle is a seafarer looking for quick romance who finds himself drawn into a deep affection for the wild girl.

The simple story is fascinating because of the superb acting and the technique in which the tale unfolds. There is a naturalness that holds interest and sympathy.

In Swedish, English titles.

ring Sean Connery. Each film has the typically gorgeous Bond heroine — Ursula Andress in "Dr. No" and Honor Blackman in "Goldfinger."

"Dr. No" tells how Bond, aided by Miss Andress, prevents a nuclear war.

IT'S NEW To Us

FOR HALFLINGS
Chic, at Clayton's, Ladies who wear half sizes have always had to beat their heads plaintively at dress-shop doors, begging for something the least little bit chic.

Clayton's graciously acknowledges these ladies with a rack full of clothes, 12½ to 22½, priced from $25 to $60. Weep, at the saying goes, no more.

For $25, you may have a jersey dress, boned for trim fit, designed with a narrow belt and a pleasant turnover collar-sparked with an offside pin of brilliants. We like it in warm blue.

Many of the half-sizes at Clayton's are three-piece knits like the hunter green suit, surprisingly paired with powder blue overblouse. Open work around the edges of the jacket allows the blue to peek through.

Another, regal in royal purple, has a flat ribbon binding trim. (Suit is $50). Another, regal in blue, has a pale blouse in silky rayon with soft tie at the neckline.

One of the most unusual has a free-swinging jacket that looks like a muted tapestry weave. The suit is deep grey, beige or taupe.

Now, about those regular sizes. Can you imagine a better fabric than Virella for summer-fall weather? Clayton's suggests the tomato red print with the beige flowers, and the plaid in violet and green (that's the one with the small, flat neckline and no collar) or the autumn gold print.

That gold print, by the way, comes with a matching cashmere sweater edged with the dress fabric. (Deep moss green, too).

Need a Drape?

Custom-made drapes and slip-covers have always been a feature at the Fabric Center on Witherspoon Street. Everything is made in the Center's own shop to save your fingers and your temper.

If you want to branch out into foam rubber, the Center has foam in any size or shape. If you want "leathers," there are 25 colors in Naugahyde. If you want burp, 30 colors.

Ask to have someone come to your home with swatches and professional advice on color, texture and fabric. The number is 921-2294.

The bankers' grey Virella dress has a grey cashmere cardigan edged brightly with tomato red in two parallel strips.

Mixing and matching goes on in the sweater-skirt department until . . . well! That Braemar cashmere ensemble is too precious to separate. Clayton's offers it, at $60 a set, in sets only. It consists of a cashmere sweater, soft as a baby kitten, tied at the throat with a brief tie, matched to a woven wool skirt. We saw it is clover purple, reseda green (sort of limey) and "blue melange."

Lambswool sweater and knit wool skirt drop a bit to $45, in a set consisting of sporty cardigan and skirt. Gold brown and deep blue. There are separate Braemar lambswool sweaters, too, like the one in bright rose with its unusual turn-over collar fastened at the side. But these ensembles!

Colors like "wild oats," fern green, "heather blue" have been used in the most delectable heathery sweaters, all with a friendly skirt to go striding along on the moors.

Hadley decides on deep avocado green, royal and olive stripes for its pullover, and you choose a skirt from any of the component stripes. It comes also in turquoise, purple and blue, again with skirt to harmonize. We liked the tweed matching skirts best, although there is a flannel in the right color, too.

Fair Isle sweaters, as you know, have a patterned yoke hand-knit in a cottage on the Shetland Islands out of the wool of Shetland sheep. Clayton's shows the Fair Isles with matching A-line or slim skirts.

Your suit from Clayton's this fall might be an Irish tweed in classic design, perhaps the collarless one with its pointed yoke in light raspberry or jade ($55) or the $45 Harris tweed, warmly autumnal in its gold-orange-spice blend. A suit by Bentley of Boston has a notched, flat collar and a trim, short jacket. You look at the switch book, if you wish, and choose your own fabric.

Dog-Owners, Beware.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
 My dog Sunny dropped dead yesterday. The autopsy showed that he had died of shock after a gastritis attack caused by poisoning.

As his place is fenced, and the dog could not roam away from home, how could he pick up a poison? I can only think of one possibility: the evening before he died, I took him for a walk along the banks of Carnegie Lake, close to the edge where fishers often sit hopelessly by their rods. Sunny stopped on the lake bank and ate his favorite kind of grass. It occurs to me that a fisherman to protect himself may have sprayed this grass with an insect killer containing deadly poison. Therefore, I want to suggest to others that they keep their dogs and children from getting any grass in their mouths at places where they may have sprayed it to rid themselves of biting insects.

 Good Will Ambassador

To the Editor of Town Topics:

We read with interest, Mr. Van Arsdale's account of the war of the Middle East (TOWN TOPICS, September 15). And a good-will tour it was. We attended the intercollegiate championship basketball game in Tel Aviv which Mr. Van referred to and resided in the same sports village-hotel, both on the field and off.

He truly was an ambassador of good-will for the United States. Valley Road School is fortunate to have him as its physical education teacher.

Juvarele Board Advocated.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
 It has come to my attention that the Borough of Princeton has appointed a full-time juvenile officer. I would like to congratulate those people who were responsible for the creation of the new position. This could be a great benefit to all the students in the Princeton community, but also could just turn into another financial load. The big question that arises in my mind is whether a police officer or a social worker should be the juvenile officer. After mulling the question, I did research on the problem, obtained various opinions from police officers, adults, and students on this question.

The great majority thought it would be advisable for a social worker to be appointed to this position and for the policeman to work closely with the civil authorities. The primary reason behind this thought was that the student or individual with problems would communicate more freely to a civilian worker than to a man in blue.

The police have done an exceptional job in working with the Princeton student in the past and should be commended for this accomplishment. The police officer's duties are basically to enforce the law and to ensure the public welfare and this is what he is trained to do.

But I believe a specialist should be appointed to this new position. He should be trained in social work and understand the sociological, economic, educational, psychological, and physiological problems that confront the student every day. The social worker would be recognized by the community and the student as one who would be available for guidance and counseling, not for enforcing the law and ordinance. Every police officer is a juvenile officer at all times, and should give assistance whenever he is called upon. Therefore, I feel that the idea of appointing a police officer instead of a social worker to this position should be closely re-evaluated.

Mr. Mayor and citizens of Princeton: this appointment of a juvenile officer is a significant step forward, but we cannot stop here. One person is responsible for thousands of students in the Princeton community is not enough. I wish to recommend that a juvenile board be established in Princeton.

Representatives from the adult community, clergy, Police Benevolent Association and other organizations should be members of this board. Some of the duties of the board would consist of counseling, guidance, studying the problems that confront the student, and making recommendations to the mayor, councilmen, recreation department, and the courts. It should not be for the containment of the student.

An Invitation to All.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
 Princeton is a University and Princeton is a town or a way of life; yet so subtly has each shaped the destiny of the other that now it is difficult to think of one without the other. Town people, in the course of the college, college-baser, Princeton people, follow the course of the town. This is expressed in this way: Education and research are the major industries.

The above description of Princeton, written a decade ago by one of New Jersey's outstanding historians, clearly indicates that "Princeton" — the Town and the University, the Borough and the Township and surrounding municipalities — is an entity, the component parts of which are indispensable to one another. It also suggests that Town and Princeton do well to know as much as possible about one another.

As Chairman of the Orange Key Guide Service, I would like to extend a cordial invitation to all residents of the Princeton community to visit the Campus. While many of you already know a great deal about the University, the last decade has brought so many changes that some of them have probably gone unnoticed by Princetonians.

From Monday through Saturday, the Guide Service offers four tours daily at 9:40 and 11:40 a.m., and at 1:35 and 3:20 p.m., while on Sunday afternoons the hours are 2:00 and 3:30 p.m. Tours can always be arranged through the Orange Key Guide Office in Stanhope Hall (telephone 452-3693).

In addition, the Faculty Room in Nassau Hall, the nation's capital building in 1783, is manned around-the-clock by Guides on weekdays from 2:00 until 5:00 p.m., Saturdays from 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m., and Sundays from 1:00 till 5:00 p.m. It is not necessary to make any previous arrangements to visit the Faculty Room.

A guided tour takes about an hour. There is of course no charge and a well-informed student guide will be delighted to point out the new buildings, and even to discuss the curriculum changes and other significant developments of recent years. Our Guide Office is open year-round, including all vacation periods, so that you and your families and friends are welcome to come whenever it might prove convenient for you.

By touring the campus we hope that you would become better acquainted with the University and that in turn we, the undergraduates, would have opportunities to get to know more of you better.

We shall look forward to seeing many of you.

FRANK C. STANASBURGER
 Orange Key Guide Service Chairman.

WAIT 'TIL NEXT YEAR
Pool's Opening Postponed.
The Community Park swimming pools will not open until next year.

For the public there will be a grand opening, probably on Memorial Day. First to use them will be the school children. Recreation Director Donald Barr said that the Recreations Commission plans to have the schools use the pools in the spring of 1967.

"This seems like the most realistic thing to do," said Mr. Barr, in commenting on the progress of the pools at last week's monthly meeting of the Joint Recreation Commission. "We're stressing quality," he added. "We're trying to complete it with the best job we can get."

He continued: "We're moving along slowly but surely. The bath houses are ready except for painting; the filtration system is in, ready to be tested. We were all ready to pour the decks and then the rains came. They'll be poured in the near future."

When the decking around the pools has been poured, the largest remaining item to be completed will be the landscaping. "The pool should be completed by spring," said Mr. Barr. During the winter, the olympic-size and diving pools will be partially drained below the level of the underwater lights, the conduits blown and sealed off.

The chance that despite the delays, the schools would be able to use the pools this fall failed to materialize. "We weren't ready for the schools," said Mr. Barr, adding, that in checking with school officials, he found out that "they, themselves, were not ready for us."

ed by Township Engineer Frank Quinby and James Clark, who combined in its conception. Mr. Clark was for many years before his retirement superintendent of grounds for Princeton University.

Calling for a mixture of trees and shrubs, the total number of plantings could be installed in the ground for Mr. Quinby estimated, $8,200. Mr. Barr reported that $7,500 had been allocated for landscaping but that some additional money was available from savings realized on parking and fencing contracts.

To provide an evergreen screen around the pools, Mr. Quinby and Mr. Clark planned to plant 515 dark arborescent shrubs. To erect a barrier between the olympic and diving pools, they envisioned a screen of evergreens containing Japanese Andromeda, Japanese Holly and Pfitzer Juniper. Around the bath house and pool manager's office, 43 spreading English yews are planned. Yellow Firebush would grow against the bathhouse walls.

Other features: Two rows of staggered White Pine trees along Witherspoon Street to hide the parking area; 17 Shadblow Locust trees, which attain a height of 60 to 70 feet at maturity, for shade and a mixture of white and red dogwood and Sargent Cherry in the mail leading to the pool entrance. There would be no large plantings in the pool complex area itself. The Board voted to accept this plan but stipulated that Mr. Quinby and Mr. Clark ob-

SWIM! WRESTLE! SING!
At YMCA This Fall, or just relax. You can participate in any of the fall schedule if you haven't a muscle in your body.

Understanding Investments, for example. This is a two-hour, four-session seminar in stocks, bonds and the stock exchange to be conducted by William F. O'Brien of Smith, Pierce, Fenner and Smith.

Or the YMCA's newest group, member of the American Association of Retired Persons, which will meet one or two times a month out of interest to senior residents of the community.

On Tuesday of each month at 8 p.m., the Princeton Amateur Astronomy Association will meet (anyone can join) and also on Tuesdays, concluding the joiner with a difficult decision on scheduling, YMCA Chess Club members gather. This month is held at Dorchester House from 7:30 to 11:30 under the director of Werner Scuttling.

Singers, men and women, may audition for the Princeton Choral Group which meets Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. with J. Beau Lecky. Mr. Lecky now has 30 voices in his chorus.

Duplicate bridge players meet each Tuesday at 8 and Master point night is held the first Tuesday of each month.

In the "Mr. and Mrs. Club," husbands and wives may join either couples for theatre parties, dinner or outings. Men and women may meet again in the horseback riding classes held each Monday and Tuesday evening at Hasty Acres Stable, Princeton. Mrs. June Clark instructs.

Oil painting will be taught each Wednesday from 8 to 10 p.m. by Mrs. Constance Bond to and an introductory class in photography will be given on Wednesday evening. This is for those who want explanations of the exposure, composition and developing. Steve Hiss will be the instructor.

For the athletes, the YMCA will offer swimming lessons for men at all levels of skill, an eight-week squash course for beginners and intermediates with a chance for competitive play, a trampoline class for adults, instruction in fencing from Stanley Sieja, the University's coach, a basic course in judo and a men's conditioning class (swim afterwards).

Informal basketball, badminton, volleyball and ping-pong are also on the men's agenda. Registration for the fall term is in progress. Classes will start next Monday.

HADASSAH WILL MEET
To Hear National Officer. Mrs. Max Schenk of New York City, national treasurer of Hadassah, will address the Princeton Chapter at 8 p.m. on Tuesday. Mrs. Bernard Gerb, chapter president, will preside.

Mrs. Schenk, wife of Rabbi Max Schenk of Congregation Shalom Zedek, Brooklyn, has spanned half the world in saving the Zionist movement. She has served Hadassah as vice-president and national secretary, and as chairwoman of the men, education chairman and as Hadassah Medical Organization fund-raising chairman.

Mrs. Simon Yoffee is program chairman. Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Sidney Rosen, Mrs. Frank Shapiro, Mrs. Seymour Bostonsky and Mrs. Martin Caulton.

Arts Council Proposed

Representatives of Princeton performing and visual arts groups will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Nassau Inn to discuss the proposed Princeton Arts Council.

William A. Dobson, vice-president of the Civic Affairs Division of the Princeton Chamber of Commerce, has suggested that a council organized and run by the cultural community could give valuable assistance to individual organizations with fund-raising and other problems.

Princeton arts groups are invited to send representatives to the meeting.

NEED RURAL CARRIER

PRECAUTIONS LISTED

For Hurricane Season. With one hurricane already having hit in the 1968 season, three more months remain during which the big storms that originate in the Caribbean area may strike New Jersey.

With that in mind, the Red Cross has listed a number of precautions that should be followed — whether the hurricane's path proves to be along the coast or inland. September and October are peak months for hurricanes in the Jersey area. They have been pounded by them in November in years gone by.

For those directly in the path of a hurricane, the Red Cross points out, "the safest course is early evacuation." These ten safety tips are offered. Continued on Page 41

GOLDEN WEDDING: Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Hoffman were married 50 years ago this Friday in Hopewell. They live at 41 Vandeventer Avenue. Story this page.

PEOPLE In The News

Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Hoffman of 41 Vandeventer Avenue mark their 50th wedding anniversary this Friday. Their children gave them an anniversary dinner last July 24 at the Nassau Inn, so that all the grandchildren could attend. Mr. Hoffman is a retired superintendent of the Railway Express Agency in New York City with a record of 32 years in the express industry behind him.

Princeton residents since July 1922 and member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, the Hoffmans have a daughter, Margorie of Jacksonville, Fla.; a son, Robert of Princeton, and six grandchildren.

Mrs. Hoffman is the former Sarah H. Rorer, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. C. W. Rorer of Hopewell. The couple were married on Saturday, September 23, 1916, at the bride's home by the Rev. D. E. Tompkins.

Kathryn Kazarov, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kazarov, 10 Baldwin Street, Pennington, and Karen Beatty, 7 Sergeant Street, were among those named to the dean's honor list at Monticello State College for the second semester last year. The girls both seniors, will be honored at a reception in October.

Mrs. Marie J. Cornogold, Magie Apartments, has joined Bernard College as an instructor in French. A native of English, Mrs. Cornogold studied at Leeds University and received her M. A. degree in romance literature at Cornell University. She has taught at a girls' school in Bordeaux, France.

WOMEN VOTERS TO MEET

For Briefing Session, The League of Women Voters of Lawrence Township will meet next Wednesday, September 28 at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Nelson Schwartz, 9 Darrah Lane East, for a briefing session on its finance drive.

Sidney Blaxill will address the members. A Princeton resident, Mr. Blaxill is a vice-president of the Morgan Guaranty Trust Company of New York.

ed as the wisest procedures to follow:

1. Watch your newspapers and television for official weather bureau reports and listen for them on radio. A battery operated radio set is a wise precaution in the event of power failure to the house.

2. Store garbage cans, garden furniture and tools, awnings and such objects in a safe place. Wind-driven, these can become dangerous missiles.

3. Put storm shutters in place or board up windows.

4. If you are told to evacuate — don't delay. Get out quickly and follow instructions.

5. If you live in a low-lying area, don't risk being swamped or marooned. Get away from beaches and all low areas likely to be swept by the hurricane tide surge and high winds.

6. Don't go outside during the storm. Stay indoors, preferably in a brick or concrete building.

7. Keep away from windows.

8. Should the "eye" of the hurricane pass directly overhead, there will be a deceptive period of calm that may last a half-hour or longer. Don't be misled; stay where you are. The other side of the storm will return with winds from the opposite direction.

9. Fill bottles and utensils with drinking water and fill body sections, designed to hold on heavily in impact. Read the details on how scrupulously Mercedes-Benz engineering has bred a superbly safe automobile.

MERCEDES-BENZ builds 15 different models, from a $25,582 limousine to a $6,185 sports car to a $4,084 family sedan.

Superb performance is standard on every Mercedes-Benz. A 300-hp 6-cylinder 199 cc. engine is standard on 300,000 miles. Weekly, the owner drives it to work.

Each is engineered up to performance standards far beyond your normal needs. The objective: to give you maximum control over the car under even the most extreme conditions. The result: Mercedes-Benz cars are admired by professional racing drivers, lauded by safety experts, and respected in 158 countries throughout the world.

Holding the road

Every Mercedes-Benz rides on a fully independent suspension system with heavy-duty shock absorbers, heavy-duty springs, front anti-sway bar and a rear-axle, horizontal compensating spring.

For everyday smooth-road driving, this is sheer engineering extravagance.

But some day you might suddenly get off the pavement, onto a stretch of potholed back road. You might suddenly enter a sharp bend faster than you intended. You might suddenly have to change course while cruising along at can buy for yourself. The pace was furious, and the competition was fierce. The ladies won.

If trouble meets you

Such superb Mercedes-Benz engineering can help you evade trouble in a sudden crisis. But the grim fact remains—accidents do happen. Mercedes-Benz engineers faced this fact, then went to work.

First, they made the car body itself a safety device (patented, 1951). Front and rear sections of this "unit" body are designed to collapse on heavy impact, absorbing shock before it can slam into the passenger compartment.

Patented "safety cone" door locks are designed to keep doors shut in collisions from any angle, or in roll-over crashes. Up front, the steering gear is located behind the front suspension and wheel masses.

Stylists take a back seat

A Mercedes-Benz interior is made safe before it's made pretty. For example, the steering wheel hub looks like a doughnut. It is padded, not pointed. The instrument panel is America's toughest roads.

The pace was furious, and the competition was fierce. The ladies won.

A parting word

However well engineered it may be, no car can entirely defend against the show-off, the drunkard, or the neurotic bent on self-destruction. Safety depends on you.

For sane drivers, Mercedes-Benz cars can help reduce the hazards of driving—without dulling its pleasures. They are among the world's safest cars, and also among the world's most responsive. A unique and desirable combination.

ART In Princeton

MEEKER ON VIEW

At Gallery 100, Graphics by Dean Meeker have been seen often in Princeton and indeed in most important national or international exhibitions of graphics. Considered by many "a pioneer of modern graphic art," he fulfills that role by constantly pushing ahead in the experimentation of techniques and materials. Gallery 100's first Fall showing, (through October 2nd) is a collection of Meeker drawings and prints in both familiar and more recent techniques. From a student background which stressed art, history, philosophy and anthropology come many of his subjects.

Some of the historical and mythical figures, such as the Icarus series, Hannibal and Cosmo bear great interest as character studies. For example Cosmo, depicted in a color serigraph is distorted against his city background, his ego overpowering. (Incidentally, this print was lent by Gallery 100 to the Stony Brook Garden Club in 1965 as part of a prize winning entry in the New York Garden Club Show in a category of floral arrangement with work of art.)

We prefer Cosmo as he appears in scale, this time in a masterful brush drawing where he emerges the handsome, harsh but forceful leader. This is one of the finest exhibits in the gallery. As in his other drawings, Dean Meeker has a wonderful sense of character which he indicates sketchily but with dramatic emphasis.

Drawing Has Power. Hannibal also comes in both color (intaglio) and brush drawing. Again, though in print he makes a more complete picture, in the very casual drawing of him astride an elephant brandishing a sword barely indicated, he conveys far more the triumphal image. The way in which the artist uses an unusual black-brown ink, here dry and thin, there thick and wet, gives enormous dimension and power to a simple drawing. "Icarus in Deliberation" is a case in point.

New Techniques. Dean Meeker's latest graphic methods involve printing on copper and aluminum plates and building thereon his reliefs with a variety of new materials to create texture and color. The results vary from the dry, flat effect of "Blue Structures" to the three-dimensional "Tower of Babel" which has both the quality of painting and sculpture. This is a most impressive print, fascinating in its metallic relief, its depths of actual inkiness and color tones. One can see the whole empty structure and hear its empty metallic reverberation.

For anyone interested in graphics as an artist or as a viewer, these prints with their different processes are an intriguing lesson by a professional who is currently Professor of Art Education at the University of Wisconsin.

Nassau Club. A show of colors by Vera McKinley begins the annual program

MAN OF LA MANCHA: Don Quixote, spare and lean, with brooding eyes, has been executed in an intaglio technique by Dean Meeker, graphic artist whose works are now on view at Gallery 100. (Staff Photo)

A monthly shows at the Nassau Club. These exhibitions are hung primarily for the enjoyment of the members and to enhance the club rooms. However, visitors are given a warm welcome by the club during the hours of 10 a.m. to noon and 2:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily.

Vera McKinley lived and worked as a student, artist and teacher in Cleveland, Philadelphia, Port Washington and Chicago. Since moving to Princeton in 1964, she has taught watercolor painting in the Princeton Art Association Program and has exhibited frequently here and in the East.

Familiar to Princetonians are her still-lives, decorative compositions of colorful flowers and birds. Her portrait studies are not as well known to us and one of these bears special mention. "Betty" is a quick impression of a young girl painted in an interesting light which touches her hair and shirt, leaving her face in shadow. The contrast of light and the broad technique of painting gives a nice lively sense of character. Quite characteristic of her landscapes in watercolor is a shore scene with lighthouse. In this she uses the medium in a liquid manner and gets a real feeling of heavy-laden clouds blowing over the coast. A wet wind bends the grasses and stirs a grey ocean leaving us with a definite impression of mood.

One picture which we shall call "Boats at Evening" impresses us as the most successful in the show. Well-composed and broadly painted in a low range of deepening blues, it is a charming and suggestive harbor scene.

NEW WORKSHOP READY

To Open in October, Princeton's first professionally-equipped center for graphic arts will open in October with classes for artists, and equipment for the professional printmaker.

Princeton Graphic Workshop, Inc. is located at 12 Nassau, with the entrance on Bank St. Classes will be given by Carol Stoddard and Judith K. Brodsky, both well-known in Princeton as artists in the field of graphics.

Presses have already been installed for use in lithography, etching, woodcutting and engraving. The workshop will offer a 12-week course in basic printmaking, a course in which artists will learn the elements of stone lithography, etching, woodcutting and engraving. Each student will have an opportunity to produce an edition in each of these media.

There will be two editions of the class: one on Wednesday mornings from 9 to 11 with Mrs. Brodsky and one on Wednesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 with Mrs. Stoddard. Enrollment is limited.

Experienced printmakers are invited to use the facilities independently for a nominal fee. For these artists, the workshop will be open daily from 9 to 5 and evenings from 7:30 to 9:30, except for the class periods.

Printmakers may sign up for the presses on an hourly, weekly or monthly basis. Mrs. Stoddard hopes that artists using the workshop will exchange ideas freely and perhaps work out experiments which are mutually beneficial.

Mrs. Stoddard is in charge of the Creative Arts Printing Shop at Princeton University and also supervises the work of her own press, the Carolingian Press. She has received numerous prizes including one from the Society of Typographic Arts for book design and illustration, and one from the "Fifty Books of the Year" for book design.

Her work is offered by several New York galleries and she has had one-man shows in New York. In her student years she was an apprentice to Philip Reed, one of the country's foremost printers and wood-engravers.

Mrs. Brodsky, a graduate of Radcliffe, is a candidate for the Master of Fine Arts degree at the Tyler School of Fine Arts, Temple University. She also teaches art history at Temple. Her work has been exhibited in Philadelphia and Princeton, and was shown at the State Museum last spring in the New Jersey Artist Show. Detailed information on dates and pre-requisites may be obtained from the Workshop, 12 Nassau, or by calling 924-2692.

Can a shoe originally designed for men make it in a woman's world? That was the question a leading manufacturer of men's shoes asked just three short years ago when they introduced a line of classic dress shoes for the lady. And today? Lady Bostonian has it made! Fact is, they're just like his Bostonians. Same handsome stitches. Same tumbled leather. Same classic look. Inch for inch. Only smaller. Daintier. SPORTS In Princeton

RUTGERS HERE SATURDAY
In Football Ooper. The 1966 football season will open Saturday at 2 in Palmer Stadium with Rutgers facing Princeton for the 57th time since these two opponents first launched the sport at the intercollegiate level in 1889. A crowd upwards of 30,000 is expected to view the proceedings.
 The Tigers, reasonably confident that they can hold the Scarlet in check offensively, will seek to rebuild some semblance of the powerful attack that averaged better than 300 yards per game last season and ranked Princeton in the first ten nationally in this respect. The visitors, in the spotlight as they mark the 200th year of their founding, will take dead aim on their first victory in the Stadium since a string of four straight triumphs ended in 1961.

Development of Coach Dick Colman's team has been slowed this fall by multiple injuries — more so than in any post-war season. Only one or two have removed players from action so completely that they will miss the opener, but the squad is by no means in top physical shape. Hopes are that the starting backfield will be able to play as a unit, something it has not done with any degree of frequency since practice began at Eastlawn on September 1. First tailback Bob Weber was sidelined by a muscle pull, then fullback Dave Martin remained out of action for ten days with

THEY SHALL NOT PASS: This experienced trio of deep defenders on Princeton's 1966 football team is dedicated to the theory that every attempt to get by them will fail. All senior lettermen, they are: Harvard Gibson, center, Gibson, James, halfback; and Marty Elieberger, safety. Elieberger came so fast last season that he earned All-Ivy status in his junior year after not seeing sufficient action to win his letter as a sophomore. (Richards Photo)

Tiger Backs Can Run. Off their point, the starting backfield of wingback John Peters, quarterback Chuck Peters, Martin and Weber should move the ball well for Princeton, but there is considerable question about the blocking ability of the rebuilt offensive line. Only one man — shortstop and Pete Zeitoff — was there when the whistle blew for the kickoff in last year's Rutgers game. Of the others, three are lettermen who played in reserve capacities in 1965, two are varsity reserves and one is a sophomore.

QUICK LOOK AT RUTGERS OFFENSE: Good running backs but line has largely been rebuilt. Passing game a major question mark.
DEFENSE: Probably good enough to contain Rutgers' offense well, although secondary is green.
CHIEF ASSET: Good size, fair depth, plus extreme eagerness to beat Princeton.

CHIEF PROBLEM: Inexperienced quarterbacks working against Princeton's strength — capable defense.

TYPE OF ATTACK: Multiple. T. frequent use of formation.
 Weber's development will be worth watching — he ran and passed only 48 times as a sophomore — but there is every reason to believe he can do the job. There is good potential behind him in 210-lb. sophomore Dick Breaken, while Bruce Wayne, a starting defensive end, can double as a reserve safety back when needed.

Up front, the Tigers will be without 215-lb. tackle Homer "Shy" who will miss at least the first two games with the knee twist he sustained in collision. His replacement is 220-lb. Dave Hunt, a promising sophomore who has himself been slowed by a bone bruise in the sole of his foot.
 Bob Ewert, a Lawrenceville resident, has won the starting berth at center, freeing the vet-cran Carl Behnke for work as a defense tackle. Bob Haeletter, 230-lb. junior, will pair with Hunt as the other tackle; John Martin, a converted javayee fullback, and senior letterman Lynn Bresheer are the guards, while Steve Pierce, a versatile end who played defensively last fall, has been switched to the offensive platoon.

Defense Should Be Good. Most of the top players are on the defensive platoon and there is enough experience and ability there to make continued mastery over Rutgers and Columbia quite probable. The front five of Captain Wal Kozuma and Jerry Stupak, ends 250-lb. John "The House" Seifert and Carl Behnke, tackle and 225-lb. Lee Hietcher, middle guard, are big and experienced. Kozuma and Stupak will put a rugged pass rush on opposition quarterbacks who don't get rid of the ball in the accepted average of about 3.5 seconds.
 A fine combination of speed and experience is provided in the deep secondary by lettermen Howard Gispson, Doug James and Marty Elieberger. Work of the linebackers will be — Continued on page 41

 Age isn't an automatic handicap for a driver, but it should be treated intelligently. One medical authority points out that the average rate increases sharply after age 60 though 60-year-olds have fewer accidents than do teenagers. The possibility of developing handicaps in vision and hearing are chief factors. In order to compensate for age, speed, reaction time, glare and ability to judge distances. To be safe over 60 driver, the AAA publication, Today's Health, urges that drivers take reaction time tests, and other drivers' tests to find out how to rate themselves and then to do whatever is necessary to offset any rating which isn't tops. PREDICT TROUBLE FOR TIGERS: Dave Blydenburgh (right) picks the Princeton University Tigers to win only three games this fall, while Jim Eisenmann thinks they'll lose only three. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: How many games do you think the Princeton University football team will win this year?

Where asked: Around town.

Jim Eisenmann, Skillman, roofer: I think they'll lose three this year. They'll lose to Dartmouth, I think Rutgers is going to take them and probably Yale.

Dave Blydenburgh, Skillman, roofer: I've seen them play; they're lucky if they win three. Rutgers, Dartmouth, Penn, Harvard and Yale are going to beat them. They don't seem to have much this year.

Bart Vandermark, Rocky Hill, roofer: I'm a little more optimistic; I think they'll win five.

T. W. Morton, 3 Shirley Court, retired: I'd like to see them win them all but I don't think they will. I'd say they will win about seven. I've got to say Dartmouth will beat them, and Penn.

Frank X. Critchlow, Hopewell Township, owner of Traveler travel agency: I think they'll win them all, because after last season's beautiful record, except for that upsetting final game, the Tigers are really up for it and rarin' to go.

Fred Burrell, 21 Leigh Avenue, taxi driver: Well, two games they definitely won't win are Dartmouth and Cornell. They seem to be the two strongest teams in the Ivy League this year. I don't believe they'll have too much trouble with the rest of the league. They have a good defense, but they're slightly weak on offense. They should win seven.

Richard Hocking, Lawrenceville, plumber: I don't think they'll do as well this year... they'll take about five out of nine. They'll probably lose to Cornell and Yale but I think they'll beat Dartmouth.

Gene Smith, Patton Hall, Class of '67: All but one: they'll lose to Dartmouth.

Edward Ziff, 23 Moran Avenue, associated with the biochemistry department, Princeton University: They'll just win three. I follow astrology and there have been some bad signs for Princeton this year.

Gil Fisher, 219 Birch Avenue, employee, United Fund: I think injuries are going to have a lot to do with it. Martin is hurt — he can't start the Rutgers game and Ashby is out. That might be the turning point right there. As far as the season goes, they should do pretty well except for Dartmouth. That will be their toughest game. Otherwise, if they get some breaks on injuries, I think they can win all the rest.

Charles Russo, Trenton, University campus police: I say six or seven. I can think of two they are going to lose. Dartmouth is one. This year Penn will surprise them. Penn is improving steadily. Yale may be another surprise.

Richard Shiffrin, 1910 Hall, Class of '70: I think they'll win seven. I think Dartmouth will give them a lot of trouble... there's no doubt about that... especially since it's being played up there. The only reason I think they'll lose to Yale is that I come from New Haven and I've seen them play. They have a sophomore quarterback, Brian Dowling, who is going to make all-American. He's unbelievable.

Mike Morlino, Philadelphia, student linen service: Personally, I don't think they'll do too well. I'd like to see them win four anyway. They lost a lot of their beef; they have a lot of rebuilding to do. They may be able to find some good replacements. I hope so.

David Blair, Cap and Gown Club, Class of '67: It's kind of rough right now — they have so many injuries... I'll say seven. I think they'll lose to Dartmouth and just because I don't think they may be ready, they have a chance of losing to Rutgers. They'll be playing with a lot of sophomores and juniors in the first game. Weber is injured. Ashby is out — one of their best tackles. It all depends if they can get ready. If they can, they may be 8-1 or 9-0. Injuries are the big thing. They're thin in so many positions right now.

Sol Davdow, 36 Nassau Street, owner of Princeton Stationers: I think they'll win six. Dartmouth and Penn will beat them and either Yale or Harvard.

Charles Pecket, Flemington, Princeton taxi driver: They lost all their best players — let's face it. You can't say anything about their replacements until you see them play. If they haven't got a team spirit, they won't win. This is just a guess but I'll say they'll win seven.

Bob Westlake, Hamilton Hall, Class of '69: Seven. They will lose to Dartmouth and because Yale's away this year they'll lose to Yale.

Rich Edwards, Hamilton Hall, Class of '69: They'll be 7-2. Dartmouth and Yale will beat them.

PHS VS. HAMILTON AT 2

In Opener Saturday. In a contest that should be as revealing as litmus paper, the Princeton High School football team will open its 1966 season Saturday at 2 at Hamilton. This one is a big one.

In previous years, PHS was able to view Hamilton as an easy win. Not any more. Dave Bryan, in the three years he has served as coach, has transformed the Hornets from perennial palsies to a first-rate power in Mercer County.

Last fall, the Hornets finished with a rush, knocking off
Notre Dame, Ewing, Trenton and Steinert to win the mythi-cal Mercer County crown with a 5-1 mark. Their lone setback among county foes was an opening 19-13 loss to PHS.
Their final 5-4 record — the same compiled by the Little Tigers last year — marked Hamilton's first winning season in 10 years. No doubt finding success to their liking, the Hornets would like to continue their role of a winner.

Bryan welcomed back 12 returning lettermen, four of whom are three-year veterans.
They are quarterback John

John Milchanoski
Will he measure up?

Kurtz, ball carriers Boris Mattisziw and Bill Hackett and tackle Larry Kitchen. With three veterans in the backfield, including the all-important quarterback slot, Hamilton's chief asset is its backfield. Up front, Bryan lacks experience in the interior line. His outlook: "Every job on the line is up for grabs."

Add in its home field advantage Saturday, and the experience that came from attending a one-week training camp in Pennsylvania for the first time, coupled with the extra push that comes when winning becomes a habit and Hamilton has a lot going for it.

And Princeton? How does PHS coach Dick Wood view the opener? "We're expecting a very tough game," said Wood.
"But I feel we have a good chance of winning."

Soon after he took over the coaching reins from Joe Jingoli five years ago, Wood indicated that he does not count himself among those who feel that winning is not as important as how the game was played. He likes to win.

Having ended the last season with back-to-back losses to Notre Dame and Madison,
Wood is eager to get his Little Tigers winning. There is a feeling in the PHS camp that the team has something this year.
It is heavier than in past years.
The potential is there.

PHS Starting Lineup: Offensively, the Blue and White will line up this way against Hamilton: Huston Webber, wingback;
John Milchanoski, quarterback;
Ken Grob, fullback; Jeff Bullock, tailback; Tom Wood.

strong side end; Mike Pomianek, outside tackle; Brandon Steechlin, running tackle; Bob White, running side half; Craig Donaldson, center; Keith Conover, weak guard; and Richard Vole, weak side end. All are lettermen with the exception of Milchanski.

Wood added that Bullock will share tailback with Tom Yoder so offense. An outstanding defensive safetyman, Bullock will also play full time on defense. Others sure to start defensively include Charles Madden, Carmelo Mauro, John McKeever, Tom Butterfoss and Jay Springer.

A week ago, PHS engaged in controlled scrimmages with South Freehold and Freehold High Schools. Saturday it scrimmaged St. Anthony's.

Commenting on the first two, Wood reported, "The second went better than the first. Our running attack looks good but we still don't have a passer."

Soft Spots. Offensively, PHS would seem to be vulnerable at quarterback and in its passing. Milchanski, the starting quarterback, is the only member of the squad who lacks varsity experience. Wood reported earlier that he felt Milchanski would do a good job in running the team and calling the plays, but the position remains untested.

Bullock is a strong runner but weak passer. Yoder, the more promising flanker, is hampered somewhat by failing to play the game last year as a sophomore. Neither is the complete passer that PHS must have if it is going to win any crown.

A big plus which may turn a few games the Little Tigers may rest in the field goal kicker.
